50th Birthday Bodes Best Festival

The Antioch Lions Club, now celebrating its 50th anniversary, is one of the most active civic clubs anywhere and is highly regarded as outstanding in its consistent work for the good of the community with special emphasis in support of the blind.

A special publication, written by Joe Hunley, Bill Brook and Homer LaPlant, full of bits of history about Antioch Lions, can be found in this issue of the Antioch News-Reporter.

All subscribers will receive a copy of the history, and extra copies will be handed out at the Lions Bar-B-Que and will also be available through the Lions Club.

The Antioch Lions Club is preparing for what is not only its biggest event of the year, but also one of the social highlights of the summer in Antioch.

The Lions Club Annual Chicken Bar-B-Que and Auction is set for Sunday, Aug. 2 at Williams Park, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue chicken dinner, which can be eaten at the festival or brought home, are $4 each.

Tickets are available from Lions Club members, the State Bank of Antioch, the First National Bank of Antioch, Great American Federal Savings and Loan, and the Bank of Waukegan's Antioch facility.

For moms and dads who enjoy these summer events, but sometimes have trouble keeping their active children amused, supervised games, races and other activities will begin at noon for the kids. Children will be able to win prizes in some of the events. All are sure to enjoy the antics of St. Peter's Clown Club.

The farmer's auction will provide many opportunities for a good deal for those who attend. All auction proceeds are donated to the top-flight Antioch Rescue Squad.

The Lions Club seeks donations for the auction, sporting goods, art objects, and antiques of reasonable value are always big sellers at the auction, but all donations are welcome. To donate items, contact the village hall at (312)395-1000.

ACHS Board Hires New Coaches For Next Year

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch High School Board of Education dealt with personnel issues at its last regular meeting on Thursday, July 16.

The board officially accepted the resignations of Elsie Mourning, social studies teacher for three years, and Vickie Fikes, teacher in the learning assistance program for two years.

The board also approved the employment of Charlene Schmerbauch as assistant girls' tennis coach, Steve Owens, assistant boys soccer coach, and Patti Thelen as assistant boys' tennis coach.

Since the board gave its OK, Nadine Webeck of Sweden, will be attending ACHS starting next fall as part of the ASSE International Student Exchange.

The board set fees for the next school term: school lunches will remain at $1; general fees, $35 for freshman and other new students, and $30 for returning students.

After the fall registration schedule was presented to the board by director of pupil services, Peter Pekkarinen, the board gave its approval for registration to begin for freshmen on Tuesday, Aug. 18; for sophomores, Wednesday, Aug. 19; for juniors, Thursday, Aug. 20 and for seniors, Friday, Aug. 21. Freshmen are set to start school on Wednesday, Aug. 25 from 8 to 10:40 a.m. and Wednesday, Aug. 26 will be the first full day of school for everyone.

In other business, the board:

—heard a presentation from Social Studies Chairman John Prusila on the curriculum and departmental goals of the social studies staff.

—reviewed a request by the yearbook staff to produce a video yearbook in addition to the yearbook currently produced annually.

EPA Deadline Forces Board To Award Bid

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Village Board decided to go ahead and grant a $1,913,000 contract for the sanitary plant improvements to Indiana Construction Co. at its meeting on Monday.

Despite the fact that all the bids for the project have come in in the area of $400,000 above the original estimate, the consensus of the board was that there was little choice since the improvements have been mandated by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency with a completion deadline of June 1988.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz reported that she had talked to state agencies in Springfield and was told that there was little hope of the village receiving state grant funds because of Gov. James Thompson's budget cuts.

She added that she was advised that, if money did become available, the fact that the village had already started the project would not be a detriment and may prove to be an advantage towards getting state monies.

So the board agreed to start scalping the budget and give the construction company the go ahead.

Trustee Ron Cunningham reported on a meeting with the fire district during which remodeling of the existing fire station was discussed.

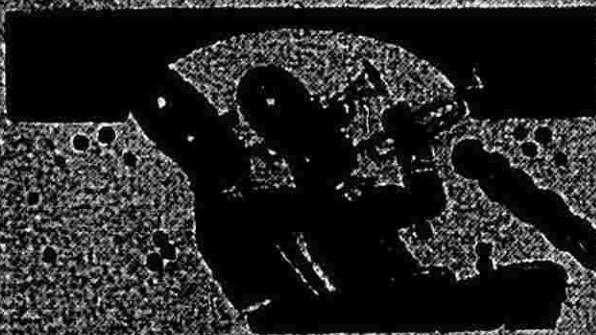

The village board approved the immediate fixing of five overhead doors at the station that were not working correctly and also the leaking roof with the fire district and the (Continued on Page 12)

Grass Lake To Lose $35,000

The Superintendent of Grass Lake School, Anthony Przeklasa, reported at the last regular school board meeting that he has received information from Springfield indicating a large reduction in state funding for Grass Lake School.

"If the governor follows through with a $93 million cut in general state aid, Grass Lake School would see a $24,835 reduction in its general state aid claim. In addition, the elementary supplemental state aid has been eliminated, which will cost Grass Lake School $9,937," said Przeklasa.

"Altogether, Grass Lake School could see a loss of $34,772 in state funding for the 1987-88 school year," said the superintendent.

At its regular meeting on July 14, the Dist. 36 Board of Education took the following actions:

- received a report that the rate referendum request for the November election has been filed with the county clerk
- received a report that a letter has been sent to Emmons and Lotus Schools to explore the feasibility of consolidation
- established a working cash refund
- set the second Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at Grass Lake School as the date, time, and place for regular school board meetings
- approved acceptance of tuition student and approved the early entry of a kindergarten student.

RTA Approves $80,000 Grant For Traffic Study

As part of its ongoing effort to focus attention on worsening suburban transportation problems, the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) has approved an $80,000 challenge grant for the Northwest Municipal Conference to fund a study of suburban commuting problems—specifically road congestion—and to explore possible solutions. "The RTA feels this is money well spent," said Theodore G. Weigle, Jr., the RTA's executive director. "If we do not participate in projects such as this we will have no part and no say in the transportation decisions reached in developing areas. Transit is going to be necessary as suburban density increases, and the RTA wants to be there from the beginning," said Weigle. The RTA's grant will be matched by $40,000 in contributions from local business interests and other government agencies.

In addition to paying the management group which will perform the congestion study, part of the grant will be used to fund Transport, a not-for-profit transportation corporation established by the Conference.

The grant was approved by the RTA's Board of Directors and announced at the workshop on "Transportation Options For Suburban Cook County" sponsored by RTA July 15 and 16. The workshop was the second of its kind conducted by RTA. A third workshop will be held in Lake County.

Through its strategic planning process, RTA has identified large and growing public transportation markets in suburban areas previously satisfied by private transportation.

"One of the most important results of our strategic planning process is the realization that we must devote greater attention to the suburbs," said RTA chairman Samuel K. Skinner.

"The RTA has begun funding forging a new alliance with the suburbs to give growing service markets greater influence in transit decision-making and planning," he said.

The "Transportation Options" workshops exemplify this new alliance. At the most recent session, held in suburban Countryside, a study team organized by the Institute of Traffic Engineers examined pressing issues in both public transportation and public management of private transportation in suburban Cook County.

The answers it suggested ranged from pursuing joint development projects around transit stations with local interests to seeking corporate sponsoring of non-traditional transportation modes to the workplace.

"The suburbs will play a major role in defining the RTA's long-term capital investment strategy," said Skinner.

Gov. Thompson Reduces Budgets

The first in a series of predicted budget cuts was made when Gov. Thompson reduced the state's Dept. of Revenue and Dept. of Public Aid budgets by $25 million, according to State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake).

Klemm said the $10.76 billion general funds budget approved by the General Assembly is expected to be reduced by $390 million early next week when the Governor announces more state agency budget cuts.

The budget proposal now on the Governor's desk does not incorporate an across-the-board two percent reduction plan offered by House Republicans before the General Assembly adjourned July 1, Klemm said.

The Dept. of Revenue's budget was cut $16 million and Public Aid's was reduced by $9 million, Klemm said. In addition to announcing the cuts in the two agencies' budgets, the Governor also said he will not ask the legislature to consider a tax increase when it reconvenes for the fall veto session.

The $9 million reduction in Public Aid's budget will not affect grant levels for welfare recipients. In addition, welfare reform legislation now awaiting action by the Governor will not be adversely affected by the cuts.

The legislation would expand the Project Chance program and extend medical and day-care benefits for recipients leaving the welfare rolls to find jobs.

Developmental Center Gets Higher Funding

By prolonging the battle over mental health funding, the Illinois Senate last week won an additional $39,000 for the Waukegan Developmental Center in Waukegan, according to Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

"It was a struggle all the way to keep our commitment for a stronger mental health program throughout the state, but Senate Republicans ultimately won out, putting $8 million more for mental health in the final state budget," Sen. Geo-Karis reported. "The legislation gives Waukegan $18.856 million instead of $18.817 million, which was all the House was originally willing to provide."

Geo-Karis said funding for mental health facilities has not kept in step with the growing need for services. "We can't fulfill the state's responsibility to children and adults with mental or developmental disabilities if we don't provide adequate funding," she said. "There is a particular need for services to young adults who have passed the eligibility age for programs within the school system."

Geo-Karis said the final decision on the state's funding for the Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities is now up to the Governor. "By putting the extra dollars in the fiscal 1988 appropriation, we have done everything possible to send him a strong message that we feel mental health services must have priority in the budget," she said.

The 1988 fiscal year began July 1, and Sen. Geo-Karis said she expects the Governor to act promptly.

'Y' Run To Benefit Paralyzed Child

An automobile accident on Rte. 83 in Trevor, in October of 1986, left three-and-one-half-year old Danny Crews of Antioch permanently paralyzed.

Danny's mother Sheryl lost control of the car while driving home from church in Wilmot. The car hit another vehicle spun and ended in a ditch.

The accident permanently injured Danny's spinal cord and he was flown to Froedert Hospital in Milwaukee, given little chance of survival by those who treated him at Westosha Emergency Center in Silver Lake.

Danny did survive, although he is unable to breathe without the aid of a respirator. Danny returned home after seven months. His mother, who works at the Great Lakes Naval Center, was also injured in the accident, suffering a broken neck. She has since recovered and is back to work.

Danny's father Gerald reports that his employee insurance (Cooperative Credit Union, Waukegan) has paid all of Danny's horrendous medical bills and is financing a live-in nurse to care for Danny.

Danny sings and laughs like most boys his age and loves to watch tv, but his new way of life is calling for major renovation of the Crews home, estimated to cost $30,000, a cost that the family cannot afford.

The family room must be enlarged to accommodate Danny's large wheelchair which also holds the respirator. A ramp must be installed at the front door, the back deck must be brought flush with the entrance and a small elevator must be installed so Danny can go in his wheelchair to other floors of the house.

Plans are also to purchase a van that has a hydraulic wheelchair lift which will cost and additional $17,000.

The Crews family is grateful for the tremendous support received from relatives, friends and neighbors and now the Lake County YMCA-Indian Guides is sponsoring a five-mile walk-a-thon-bike-a-thon at 1 p.m. on Sunday, July 26, starting at the "Y" at County and Clayton Sts., Waukegan, and going to Bowen Park and back to the "Y".

The idea is to get sponsors for each mile run with the total monies going to help pay for the remodeling of the Crews home.

Gary Welch, chief of the Pawnee Tribe at the "Y", a former service buddy of Gerald Crews, is spearheading the event. Anyone interested in sponsor sheets or just giving a donation should call Welch at (312)662-8130.

The Lioness Club of Waukegan has set up a trust fund account for the child at dad's place of business, the Consumer Cooperative Credit Union, Waukegan.

Rescue Squad Auction Will Highlight Lions Bar-B-Que

The Antioch Rescue Squad will hold its annual fundraising auction on Sunday, Aug. 2, in conjunction with the Antioch Lions Club Chicken Bar-B-Que at Williams Park.

The auction is the rescue squad's major fundraiser of the year. Over 300 items have been donated for auction by local businesses and individuals.

The auction will begin at noon, with viewing one hour beforehand.

The Antioch Rescue Squad is a volunteer organization whose members receive no compensation. Rescue squad services are provided at no charge, and its sole financial existence depends on community donations.

Items donated for the auction to date include a 4-H pig donated by Strang Funeral Home; a paddleboat by Pederson Bros.; Zoeller sump pump by Carey-Gelden Electric; four-foot blue spruce by Channel Lake Nursery; 4-H steer by State Bank of Antioch; park bench from Ace Hardware; boat slip on Petite Lake for 1988 season by Cypress Resort; Bulova wall clock from Johnson Jewelers; two Icelandic sweaters from Vern and Bunny Thelen.

Also included in the line-up are a birdseye maple dresser from State Rep. Robert Churchill; a women's jacket from the Globe; 4-H pig from Thelen Sand & Gravel; oak table by Osmond Insurance; and a snapper lawn mower from First National Bank of Antioch.

Other items include antiques, glassware, furniture, lawn equipment, music boxes, sailboat and much more.

This year, the Antioch Junior Women's Club will sponsor a Treasure Booth during the auction.

Anyone with items to donate may contact Tim Osmond at (312)395-2500.

The Great County Fair

Fair week is upon us, the annual Lake County Fair. For five days, life in Lake County centers on what's going on at the fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120. Maybe it's our imagination, but the usual hurly burly seems to stem a bit. The frenetic pace slows enough to allow us to step back to a time when our countryside was given to corn and cows, not bulldozers stripping away rich topsoil for more shopping centers and houses.

The Lake County Fair, with roots going back nearly 100 years, is one of Illinois' largest county expositions. It grows and changes a little each year. Twenty-five years ago, when the fair was getting settled into permanent quarters at Grayslake, cows outnumbered horses. Today, you can see more horses at the Lake County Fair doing more things than anywhere in the nation outside a wild mustang roundup in Wyoming.

One of the irresistible appeals of the county fair, in our mind, is its sameness. You can enjoy familiar sights and sounds while comparing this year's best quilt and blue ribbon blueberry pie with years past. In a nation given to change, where buildings have become almost as disposable as diapers, there aren't many places you can do that.

The fair is one of the last events left that draw Lake Countians together. As we push a half-million in population and subdivisions from one town start overlapping another community, we get farther apart in lifestyles and understanding of our neighbors. Outside of real estate tax bills, Lake County residents don't have much in common anymore except the county fair.

The Lake County Fair runs July 29-August 2. We're looking forward to a great week for a great county fair. See you there!

Growing Interest In History

The continued growth in local history is a healthy sign. More and more citizens are banding together in either loose-knit interest groups or organizing historical societies along formal lines. This is the sign of a maturing society.

The Lakes Region Historical Society reached a landmark on Saturday, July 18, with the dedication and opening of a permanent home and museum. The building itself has historical significance, serving as the home of a two-year high school (the forerunner of Antioch Twp. High School), and later as an elementary school. Lakes Region members are to be congratulated for their efforts in the cause of advancing the recording of history in this locality.

For many years, the only active historical group in our area was the Fort Hill Historical Society which met regularly in Libertyville and Mundelein. The group took its name from the Fort Hill trail, a well-traveled Indian trail following roughly the route of Fairfield Rd. through the center of the county. A portion of the highway was known as Fort Hill Rd. until recent times.

Our lives are enriched and expanded when we are aware of the events and people who paved the way. Every community with an organization recording local history is better off. We hope the trend continues to grow and flourish.

Letters To The Editor

Protecting Citizens

Editor:

It was never the Wauconda Village Boards intent to put lawn care companies out of business, but only to protect the rights of all its citizens. The law was not especially stringent, but it did give the village a knowledge of who was making herbicide and pesticide applications and proof that they were properly licensed by the state, so that not only the citizens with health problems were helped, but the village fresh water, sewerage treatment plant and Bangs Lake were protected against illegal dumping of poisonous materials.

Some of the applicators followed our ordinance and still voluntarily abide by it. According to their statements, there was no significant added expense or problems to their operation. The Illinois Supreme Court opinion was that although we had a right to pass the law, we were pre-empted by the fact that we were not a home rule community.

On the positive side of our starting the ball rolling with passage of our ordinance, I have received letters of support and requests for our ordinance from 50 or 60 states, counties and cities across the country and a number of them have passed laws as strong as ours, or stronger. Five states have passed laws requiring posting and notification by lawn care companies; they are Maryland, Minnesota, Iowa, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Many other states are considering legislation.

I feel that we have exhausted our court appeals, so now we should look at changing state and federal laws to come closer to protecting our rights as citizens. I suggest that we should appeal to our legislature and the federal government to strengthen the pesticide and herbicide laws to make them uniform across the country and that we ask the citizens to voice their support for this stand to their legislature.

Bob Ogren, Chairman
Environmental Committee
Village of Wauconda

Calls For Respect

Editor:

Thanks for your editorial about wells and water supply. It focused me to the subject of management, often read about, as in stress management, waste management, lakes management, even speed management. While I do 55 mph and everyone's passing me at 75, I meet them all at the red light ahead anyhow.

I am also focusing on daily redirection toward respect, care and appreciation for life around, under and above me. Life is fragile, we all have that in common. I believe it's my responsibility to be aware of my attitudes and actions in the created, beautiful world, and to the people in it. I can strive to do the good I can do with what I have and who I am. I marvel at, respect and appreciate all stages of life from conception to death's journey. This includes the wonders of nature, seasonal changes, calm and storm the air (pollution or not) to breathe.

So let's go, everyone, let's manage to respect, care for and gratefully celebrate the gift of life with joy.

Steinke Confusing

Editor:

I am writing to you about Steinke's unconfirmed rumor in "County Political Machine Is Inefficient-And Dull."

I read the article and was a little confused at the expression "unconfirmed rumor." The definition for rumor is: The unconfirmed story (about a person or event) which may not be true.

An unconfirmed rumor means that there is nothing proving that the rumor itself exists. If the rumor doesn't exist, then Mr. Steinke is starting the rumor. I thought that reporters

Editor's Viewpoint

If We Thought, We'd Care More For Fellow Man

by BILL SCHROEDER

Unless you're accustomed to waking up on park benches in distant cities for unaccountable reasons, you never get to experience loneliness and total helplessness until your car konks out on a country road.

My car stalled due to overheating the other day at an intersection with nothing but cornfields on all four corners. As the only non-mechanic in our family, my diagnosis of radiator trouble was of no consequence. I was alone and totally helpless. Because I was on the first leg of a trip to Midway Airport, I couldn't "stay with the ship" and wait for help. My choice was to start hoofing to the nearest farmhouse, wherever that might be.

An incredible stroke of luck occurred before I had walked 100 yards or even had a chance to thumb for a ride. A passing car made a U-turn and pulled up alongside. A familiar face matched a cheery inquiry. "Could you use a lift?" It was one of the gals in our newspaper typesetting department on her way to work. The loneliness and helplessness evaporated quickly. As we headed for the office I wasn't thinking about my abandoned car, only how to get to the airport on time.

That really isn't my story, though. A few days after my encounter with a good Samaritan, I passed the scene of my short-lived misfortune and almost at the exact spot near Fairfield Rd. was another motorist with a stalled car. He was signalling to passing cars with a roll of hose. No one stopped, including me.

A few miles down the road the realization sunk in that I had missed a golden opportunity to repay a good deed. Why didn't I stop and help the poor guy sweltering in 90 degree heat? I tried to rationalize that I would have blown an appointment by stopping; that because it was a busy highway, help would be along shortly; that a veteran police officer warned it is foolish to stop on a remote highway no matter the circumstances; that if I was lucky, so could another guy be lucky.

I'm still thinking of the guy with the stalled

Mr. Steinke, is the county political machine so dull that you have to start the rumors?

Who's To Pay For Water?

Editor:

The Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency says that on Nov. 3, 1987 voters in 10 towns in Lake County will be asked to approve a method of financing a $70 million project to bring Lake Michigan water to Central Lake County. What is proposed is "an equal mixture of general obligation bonds and real estate tax financed revenue bonds." If half the $70 million cost is paid through revenue bonds the real estate tax of the owner of a $75,000 house would be about $100 a year, the agency's financial consultant says.

If the scheme is rejected, the agency plans to go ahead and finance the entire project with revenue bonds. This method would be substantially more expensive.

Because Central Lake County depends largely on ground water for its water supply, development has been curtailed somewhat.

car and I can't forget the expression on his face as the line of cars passed by. It wasn't disgust. The expression was more like disbelief or surprise that there are so many uncaring persons in this world.

People are basically self-centered. They don't start caring about others until they start thinking. I have a bad habit while driving. My thoughts are usually miles away. So it was typical that I didn't start thinking-and caring-about the guy stalled at the same intersection my car stalled a few days before until I was a long way away.

I still hope that he didn't have to wait too long and that he was as lucky as I.

IT'S A GIRL—The Mantzoros family of Wauconda and Island Lake haven't shouted "It's a girl!" at the birth of a child in 30 years, so there's reason for rejoicing now that a baby girl has joined the family.

Jim Mantzoros, 78, the patriarch, is Lake County's oldest active newspaperman, writing and reporting for Frontier Publishing Co., Lake Zurich. He and Mrs. Mantzoros recently observed their 55th wedding anniversary.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Things a father sometimes wonders about: who cuts the middle out of the coffee cake?...why there are always shoes spilling out of the front closet?...how a son can get to early morning weightlifting on time one day and be late for school another day?...why the cat wants to go outside during the wee hours when she sleeps all day?...why the lady of the house arrives home with a carload of groceries looking for help when pop is in stocking feet and reading the newspaper?...who'd eat chicken wings if pop wasn't around?...how to schedule telephone time with two young people in the house?...why the trash compactor always needs emptying when dad is the only one in the house?...how to keep from locking the front door before the kids get home?...doesn't the family know that comfort is more important than style?...

Once Lake Michigan water is piped out, there will be no more problems with supplying water. Growth will run rampant along the path of the pipeline. You will pay, not only for the $70 million pipeline, but also for new roads, larger sewer plants, expanded schools, etc. to accommodate the added development along the new pipeline.

What price are we going to pay for water? I doubt whether $100 per $75,000 house will cover the entire cost to the taxpayers.

Will the voters in the unincorporated areas be allowed to vote on this proposal or just the residents of the towns involved? Who will make the decision for the unincorporated areas? Will the cost actually be $70 million or will the cost over-runs bring the cost up much higher? There are many unanswered questions that need to be addressed before this project gets off the ground.

New Program Promotes Family Communication

The Lake County Health Dept. Nursing Division offers "Just Ask," a new program designed to assist parents of nine- to 13-year-olds to communicate better with their children and to enable them to comfortably discuss sexuality issues with them.

The "Just Ask" program takes place in the home and is based on the home-demonstration party idea. The party host and/or hostess invites five to ten friends to their home who are also the parents of young adolescents. In a group led by two health educators, the parents discuss the physical, mental and social development of adolescents. They also talk about ways of communicating with their children and ways of helping them to make good decisions and accept responsibility for their actions.

Parents are helped to become more aware of the feelings their children are experiencing. They recall their own adolescence and communication with their parents, in order to become more sensitive to their own values and to better understand their children.

All participants receive gifts of small items that relate to communicating, such as note pads. They also receive a guide on communicating with one's children, and materials covering a wide variety of topics, including puberty, responsibility, being an "askable" parent, and sexually transmitted diseases.

Parents who would like to have a "Just Ask" program at their home may call Sharon Doney, health educator, at (312)360-6716 weekdays. Programs can be scheduled for days or evenings, with evenings being preferred. There is no charge.

Edison's Output Increases

Commonwealth Edison's electricity output for the first six months of 1987 was higher than the company's long-term forecast, Edison announced.

Output rose 3.4 percent during the period ending June 30, compared with the first six months of 1986. The company's long-range forecast calls for a 2 percent increase.

Unseasonably high demands for electricity in May and June, caused by the heavy use of air conditioners and other heat relief devices, more than offset a slump in output created by one of the mildest winters on record in northern Illinois. Output for May and June increased 9.7 percent and 15.1 percent, respectively.

Edison declared its first Peak Alert of the year June 18-three days before the official start of summer-when customers demanded 14,690,000 kilowatts of power between 3 and 4 p.m.

That figure marked the highest peak of the year, with the traditional heaviest demand months of July and August still ahead. The all-time record peak load, on July 17, 1986, topped out at 15,100,000, a mark Edison expects to surpass later this summer.

Civilians Get Taste Of Life On The High Seas

by BOB SCHROEDER

Even in Lake County, an ocean-going experience is only minutes away when you cruise Lake Michigan.

And when you're aboard a U.S. military vessel, you quickly realize that Lake Michigan offers all the thrills of the high seas. In reality, our big lake to the east is an inland ocean.

A group of civilians aboard the USS Oliver Hazard Perry discovered the vastness of Lake Michigan and experienced life aboard a warship during a five-hour cruise.

Among the passengers on board were Bill and Bob Schroeder of Lakeland Newspapers. Bill is general sales manager, while Bob is a route supervisor in the circulation department.

"The captain of the Oliver Hazard Perry has arrived." Those muffled words coming from the loudspeaker reverberated off the decks. With that cue, 50 men sprang into position, each performing a duty they have been specifically trained for.

A deafening whine from the twin DC-10 turbo engines put 40,000 shaft horsepower to the 10-foot stainless steel propeller. The Oliver Hazard Perry FFG7 (fast frigate guided missile) sailed from Milwaukee Harbor to Navy Pier in Chicago on July 14. Tagged as a public relations voyage, the crew and captain of the Perry met and were hosts to your reporters and more than 100 guests and supporters of the U.S. Navy.

"This is the finest ship in its class," said Capt. Cooper of Boston. "The ship was refitted two years ago and is one of the most modern ships in the Navy."

The Perry, based in Mayport, Fla., is on its three-month "Great Lakes Tour '87" which will take the ship and its crew through all the Great Lakes with scheduled stops in both U.S. and Canadian harbors.

"This ship is an exact sister ship to the USS Stark," Capt. Cooper said as he showed the guests below deck where the Iranian missile hit the Stark. "The enlisted birthing areas can hold up to 80 sailors at a time. This area took the brunt of the explosion."

The captain also showed the compact yet efficient medical "sick bay" that was completely wiped out.

"Many of those 37 men would have lived if it weren't for the fact that the medical facility was so severely damaged and a make-shift operating table had to be set up in the hallway," he said.

The Perry, which holds 185 enlisted men and 13 officers, is armed with a three-inch gun capable of firing 80 rounds a minute. It has a range of eight miles and is controlled automatically from the bridge. Also, the Perry has guided missiles capable of tracking targets up to 50 miles away, and can launch 40 missiles in six minutes.

"The Perry is quite able to defend itself against land, air and sea attacks," said Capt. Cooper. "We also have sonar tipped launch torpedoes capable of tracking and striking an elusive underwater target."

The Perry weighs in at 3,200 tons, including a protective hull which exceeds 18 inches of solid iron on certain places.

The ship is capable of a top speed of 32 mph, and has a cruising range of 4,500 miles.

The captain and crew work a 12-hour shift each. While off duty, they can relax in a television lounge or take a trip to the ship's store, filled with everything from a musical cassette tape to a candy bar.

"The Perry is truly a first-class vessel," said Capt. Cooper. "I personally am enjoying the Great Lakes Cruise '87."

Decade

Decade, a top rate group of entertainers, will be performing classic hits from the 1950's, 60's, and 70's on Wednesday, Aug. 5 at Beach Park in Wauconda from 8-11 p.m. The event is part of the Wauconda Park District's summer concert series.

Manning The Gun

Robert Schroeder, of Lakeland Newspapers, mans one of the guns on USS Oliver Hazard Perry. Ship, which is equipped to carry guided missiles, is touring Great Lakes for summer. Schroeder agreed that it is easier to smile behind the gun when no one is shooting back.

Woodland Meadows Has 50 Homes

Residential Development Group has opened 50 new homesites for sale at its Woodland Meadows community in Grayslake. A variety of eight floor plans priced from $104,900 to $131,900 are available at Woodland Meadows, which will include 312 single family homes upon completion.

"The 50 new homesites have 12,000 to 34,000 square feet of land, compared to the common 8,000 to 9,000-square-foot homesites found at many other communities," said James Coughlin, director of sales and marketing for Residential Development Group.

"The first-time buyer frequently is discouraged that affordable homes are on crowded lots, so it comes as a pleasant surprise when they visit Woodland Meadows that they can find an affordable home on a good-size homesite."

Coughlin said that larger homesites complement the corporate philosophy of offering only high quality products. "We build each of our homes the old fashioned way, stick by stick."

"To our way of thinking, stick built construction provides the customer quality for the homes and adjusts to the particular characteristics of the homesite in a way that prefabricated homes cannot," said Coughlin.

"Stick built homes and larger homesites create homes that reflect what our target buyers want. By concentrating on what the buyer wants, we sell more homes and have more satisfied customers. That makes good business sense to us."

The Grayslake location offers easy access to transportation and to career opportunities in the growing north suburban business corridors.

Parks, lakes and sports facilities in the area provide a variety of recreational opportunities for the whole family and nearby shopping centers provide an array of goods and services.

Of the eight available floor plans, four are base priced less than $110,000. The Ascot, priced from $104,900, is a two-story home with three bedrooms and 1 and one-half baths.

The master bedroom offers a dramatic double door entry and a walk-in closet. An open living and dining room provides entertainment space for formal occasions and the eat-in kitchen and family room accommodate casual entertaining.

Priced from $106,900, the Windsor has three bedrooms and 1 and one-half to 2 and one-half baths. The 14-by-21-foot family room adjoins the kitchen and breakfast nook, creating a multi-functional space for everyday living. The more formal living and dining areas serve up hours d'oeuvres and holiday feasts for family and friends.

The expandable Windridge is priced from $107,900 and has two to three bedrooms and up to two baths. Options for lofts and fireplaces enhance the welcoming atmosphere of the Windridge's entertainment areas.

An efficient galley kitchen in the Briarwood provides maximum work and storage space and opens to both the formal and living and dining area and the casual family room. With up to four bedrooms and a starting price of $108,900, the Briarwood is ideal for growing families.

Standard features in Woodland Meadows homes include prefinished wood trim, wall-to-wall carpeting, storm windows or insulated glass with screens and attached two-car garages. Kitchens feature gas oven and range, double bowl stainless steel sink, choice of wood cabinetry, decorator counter tops, built-in dishwasher, garbage disposal and vinyl flooring.

Woodland Meadows is located on Hunt Club Rd., one-half mile north of Belvidere Rd. (Hwy. 120). To visit Woodland Meadows, take the Tri-State Tollway (Int. Hwy. 294) north to Belvidere Rd. Exit west on Belvidere to Hunt Club Rd. and turn north one-half mile to the community entrance. Call (312) 362-6050 for more information.

Classes Set Leading To Real Estate Licenses

First United Realtors is sponsoring a series of real estate license preparation classes at locations throughout Chicagoland.

Starting in August and running through October, the 30-hour class has staggered starting dates and a variety of locations to fit the schedules of students.

"The purpose of the class is to prepare students for taking the state required exam prior to licensing," said Mary Coveny, vice president and director of First United's School of Real Estate. "Although we do sponsor the class, we do not require that any of our students affiliate with First United after licensing."

"Our student pass rate for the state exam is consistently high, but as part of our tuition fee, we offer our students the option to retake the entire course for only a five-dollar re-enrollment fee," said Coveny.

The program will consist of 10 three-hour classes that cover real estate law and practice. Classes will be held at First United offices in Arlington Heights, Evanston, Glendale Heights, LaGrange, Lake Forest, Mundelein, Naperville, Northbrook, Oak Brook and Schaumburg.

Coveny said that the post licensing training that First United Realtor-Associates receive is widely heralded as the best training program in the state.

"Our company philosophy is based on encouraging and developing the highest potential in each person associated with First United," she said. "Since we do want our students to consider affiliating with

First United, our license preparation program also emphasizes development of students' potential. We have assembled a faculty of attorneys who specialize in real estate to instruct our students so that we can provide the best preparation possible."

A full program of brokers' courses is also available for those wishing to pursue their real estate studies. Call the First United registrar at (312) 355-2424 for enrollment information and class schedules.

Well, the heat's on again! Our "cool snap" didn't last long enough, and the rain we received really didn't add up to much. Nonetheless, fall must be right around the corner, because it's time to think about football. Football, you say—baseball isn't over yet. Yes, football...

Motel To Break Ground Along With Strip Mall

by GLORIA DAVIS

Last week the Antioch News-Reporter said that there was just a commercial mall going up at the northwest corner of the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83.

The Walgreens based strip mall will have its official groundbreaking on Friday, July 24.

But the plans for a motel west of the mall have not been scrapped. In fact, according to Dave Bushing, vice president of J&G Enterprises, Inc., located on Main St. in Antioch, part of Dupre Enterprises, the official ground breaking for a two-phase motel on three-and-one-half acres west of Hardees will also take place on Friday.

The first phase, targeted for completion at Christmas time, will consist of 70 rooms (24 suites and 46 rooms), lounge, lobby and breakfast nook.

The second phase is targeted for completion by Christmas 1988. This phase will bring the room count to 125 plus an undercover swimming pool.

Richmond Board Names Michmershuizen Trustee

by LARRY WITTNEBERT

A new trustee has been named by the Village of Richmond.

Susan Klouda was chosen to replace Jerry Michmershuizen who moved out of the area. The office carries a term expiring April 30, 1989, according to Kate Hellmann, Richmond Village clerk.

Richmond Trustees have also passed a resolution opposing the request of Arnold May to allow the county use of Hillview Farms as a dumping ground for septic sludge, she said. The farms are located southeast of Richmond.

The village was scheduled to consider July 21 a request from the McHenry County Housing Authority to annex a two-acre parcel on the western borders for building a housing complex for the elderly.

Hellmann said that the authority would pay for extending water and sewer service.

Legislature Approves Stricter Boating Laws

The Illinois Legislature has approved legislation to help cut down on boating accidents by raising the age requirement for young boaters and requiring safety courses for them.

Under HB 2201, sponsored by Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), the legal age for operating a motorboat would be raised from 10 to 12, and youngsters from 12 to 18 would be required to complete an eight-hour boating safety course to qualify for boating certificates.

"Too many accidents have occurred because children were allowed to operate boats before they were qualified to do so," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "Inexperienced boaters are a menace not only to themselves and their passengers, but other boaters in Illinois waters. It only costs $5 for a youngster to take the Dept. of Conservation safety course, and this requirement could save lives."

She said violations of the age or safety course requirements would lead to fines of $25 to $100. Violations committed with the knowledge of a parent would be considered

Joint MRI Venture To Begin In Fall

North Lake County MRI, a joint venture between Victory Memorial Hospital and St. Therese Medical Center, received a permit from the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board to offer magnetic resonance imaging services.

violations by the parent.

A companion bill, HB 2202, would require circuit courts to report boating DUI convictions to the Dept. of Conservation, so that boating privileges can be suspended or revoked, whichever is required by existing law.

House lead sponsors for both bills were Reps. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) and Alfred G. Ronan (D-Chicago).

The MRI service will be available two days per week, beginning in the fall. The mobile MRI unit will be located at 1616 Grand Ave., Waukegan.

Magnetic resonance imaging is a state-of-the-art technique which allows the physician to see inside the body without surgery or radiation. Diagnostic information is obtained by placing the body within a strong magnetic field and low level radio frequency fields. There are no injections, no side effects, pain or discomfort. MRI images are unique in that they show soft tissue detail. The resulting films look much like regular x-rays, but they contain much more information about organs, blood, nerves, etc. Current studies show MRI to be the safest diagnostic procedure ever developed.

Commerce Commission Rejects Call Expansion

The Illinois Commerce Commission last week rejected a proposal by Illinois Bell to expand the local untimed calling area for several communities in Illinois, including Antioch. The proposal would have reduced the local phone bills for thousands of customers.

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) has supported and continues to support the expansion of the local untimed calling area for Antioch and all other similarly affected communities.

It has been CUB's position that people should be able to phone within their communities of interest, i.e. to their schools, churches, centers of commerce, neighbors and families without the burden of extra charges for each minute of conversation.

In some communities, like Antioch, the current Bell rate plan does not allow this. Thus, Bell's proposal to expand the untimed calling areas makes sense, according to CUB.

Multi-State Lottery Could Be Boon To School Funding

Lottery prizes could exceed $80 million and possibly go as high as $100 million if Gov. James Thompson signs a bill that would allow Illinois to participate in a multi-state lottery.

State Rep. Dick Klemm

(R-Crystal Lake) is co-sponsor of the bill.

Illinois lottery officials have indicated that prizes would probably range from $20 million to $80 million when the lottery starts next year. Currently, six states and the Dist. of Columbia have indicated they will participate in the lottery. In addition to Illinois, other states included are Iowa, West Virginia, Oregon, Rhode Island and New York.

If the multi-state lottery is as successful as anticipated, many other states are expected to participate.

"The Illinois lottery has been a bonanza for the state's public school system, contributing over $550 million last year to the common school fund," Klemm said. "With the expectation of incredible rewards for winning the multi-state lottery, the amount of money to be put into the common school fund is anticipated to increase to $650 million next year."

The bill also includes provisions to require the Lottery Control Board to review quarterly all advertising practices and proposed concepts for major media campaigns. This will ensure that the Lottery does not target certain groups with the intent to exploit. Many critics of the lottery have claimed that advertising is aimed at low-income groups who can least afford to purchase lottery tickets.

Other provisions of the measure require all lottery agents to display information outlining the odds of winning the specific games for which tickets are being sold.

Foreman Is Recipient Of Bar Assn. Service Award

Lake County State's Attorney Fred Foreman was presented with a Community Service Award by the Illinois State Bar Assn. at its annual meeting in Lake Geneva.

Foreman was honored for his volunteer work in civic and charitable organizations throughout Illinois, including his service as a member of the board of directors for seven Lake County charities.

Foreman and downstate attorney Edward F. Brennan, Jr., were selected from the 30,000 association members for this year's awards.

In June, Foreman was recognized by the National College of District Attorneys in Houston as a member of the Distinguished Faculty. He previously had been named a lecturer at the college in June, 1985.

As a member of the Distinguished Faculty, Foreman joins a small group of lecturers who receive favorable ratings by their peers at the University of Houston Continuing Legal Education Program for District Attorneys.

Also during June, Foreman and Lake County Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox presented roundtrip tickets to Washington, D.C., to William and Terry Anderson. Foreman and Babcox had donated the tickets during last summer's fundraising efforts when the traveling Viet Nam War Memorial came to Lake County, so that a Viet Nam veteran would have an opportunity to see the memorial. The Andersons, along with daughter Theresa, traveled to Washington last month.

College Program Aids In Communication

In the business world, the ability to communicate well has become a vital skill.

The College of Lake County's new Effective Business Communication program, with classes starting this fall, is designed to help people in business improve their communication skills.

This program enables students to practice, develop and improve writing, thinking and speaking skills by selecting from a package of 11 credit and non-credit courses.

Among the courses offered are business and professional speaking, interviewing practices, visual thinking, effective audio visual presentation, editing for precision and conciseness, logic and group discussions.

To acquire the Effective Business Communication Certificate, students must earn at least 10 hours of coursework and take at least one course in categories such as problem solving, speaking and writing. Students may elect their remaining courses to fit their needs or interests.

Russ Peterson, dean of curriculum and instruction, explains that flexibility is an important part of the program.

"We created this program in a way that gives business people a chance to combine regular college credit courses and continuing education to meet their own individual needs," Peterson said.

All classes are held in the evening and are sequenced so that the program can be completed in one year.

For more information or to request a complete outline of the Effective Business Communication program, call (312)223-6601, ext. 418.

Hard Work Built American Wealth

by GARY S. MEYERS

Most wealthy Americans got their money by working hard in their own business—not by inheriting it from wealthy relatives. And most highly affluent people are solid, middle-aged citizens with traditional family values—not money-grubbing yuppies.

These are the findings of a new poll by Louis Harris and Associates, the New York-based national opinion research organization. Eighty-two percent of the wealthy say they've acquired most of their financial assets through their own hard work, says the report, "Success in America: A Study of the Upper-Affluent." Six percent say they inherited most of their assets.

Wealthiest by far are the self-employed, notes the study; 68 percent of the upper-affluent who have net worths of $1 million or more are self-employed in their own businesses. Conversely, 68 percent of those who have net worth below $500,000 work for a company.

The poll is based on 500 interviews with financial decision makers in households with net worths of $500,000—excluding their primary residences—or minimum annual incomes of $100,000. The households were selected at random from upscale census tracts nationwide.

Wealthy households are headed by income producers with a median age of 48. Only 14 percent of the wealthy households are headed by a person 35 or under.

The study found that the people who have been most successful at accumulating wealth embody the work ethic to the point where they don't want to retire.

"They are traditional, middle-aged Americans with a highly developed work ethic and sense of family values," said Lawrence P. English, president of CIGNA Individual Financial Services Co., the Hartford, Conn. firm that commissioned the study.

"The most remarkable thing about those who have more money than others is just how unremarkable they really are," English said. "Unencumbered by the baggage of what's often called the 'me generation,' they seem to embody the best of traditional America."

Another surprising finding is that the rich do not hold material goals and status in high regard. For example, only seven percent said that belonging to a prestigious club is important, and only one in 10 think owning art or prestigious cars is important. At the same time, 55 percent said they attach high importance to their ability to contribute to charities, institutions or other causes.

Members of the following professions responded to the survey: business proprietors, corporate executives, public officials, health and educational administrators, doctors, dentists and other health professionals, scientists, engineers, artists, entertainers, athletes, lawyers, judges, and stock, real estate and insurance brokers.

Although most upper-affluent Americans say they use the assistance of bankers, certified public accountants, lawyers, stock brokers, insurance agents and financial planners, 71 percent of these self-made successes say they manage their finances themselves.

However, the nation's wealthy are not gamblers when it comes to investments, the Harris poll found. "Risky investments such as junk bonds and commodities hold little appeal for these upscale families," English said.

By far, real estate heads a long list of lucrative investments for upper-affluent families, the poll said. Here is a breakdown of the study's findings on investments:

--Ninety percent of America's rich people own a home and four percent own an apartment or condominium. Twelve percent of the wealthy who own a home say it is valued at $1 million or more. Another 35 percent estimate the market value of their house at $300,000 or more.

In addition, 79 percent of wealthy say they held a real estate investment during the past year. And 34 percent said they are likely to invest in real estate property in 1987.

"Despite the expected negative effect of tax reform, the rich continue to think of real estate favorably because of its long-term implications," English said.

--Seventy-five percent said they invest in the stock market, and 57 percent choose mutual funds. Seventy-one percent put cash in money market funds, while 46 percent choose tax-free bonds. Thirty-three percent prefer top-rated corporate bonds.

--Fifty-eight percent hold passbook accounts and whole life insurance, while 29 percent invest in single-premium life insurance policies. Other savings investments include money market accounts (56 percent) and certificates of deposit (54 percent).

--Several other investments are popular with the rich, including limited partnerships (39 percent), oil or gas (25 percent), and precious metals (21 percent).

Balcor Breaks Ground For Big Expansion

Balcor Development Co., a subsidiary of the Balcor Co., broke ground for a 75,000-square foot addition to the Factory Outlet Centre, Kenosha, increasing its retail space by 25 percent.

The new "Phase IV" expansion will accommodate an additional 20 outlet tenants and will provide retail space ranging in size from 2,000 to 5,000 square feet.

Three additional acres of land will be developed for parking, which will accommodate the expansion and add to the total parking capacity at the already-busy shopping center.

With the new expansion, the Factory Outlet Centre will contain about 380,000 square feet of retail space. Negotiations with prospective tenants for 26 percent of Phase IV are currently underway, with leases for an additional 47 percent of the space either signed or out for signature. Phase IV will be completed by year's end.

Opened in 1982, the Factory Outlet Centre features manufacturer-retail outlets selling name-brand goods from 20 to 70 percent less than standard retail prices.

Located at the intersection of Wisconsin Rte. 50 and Interstate 94, the Factory Outlet Centre currently houses more than 80 shops, including tenants such as Anchor Hocking, Jonathan Logan, Carters, Van Heusen, Izod, American Tourister and Corning Glass.

An affiliate of the Balcor Co. recently purchased the mall from Factory Outlet Centre, Inc., and investor Kenneth B. Karlas as part of a growing emphasis on Midwestern and commercial real estate investments.

Sales for the Centre in 1986 were estimated in excess of $55 million, and with the new expansion, the mall's reputation as one of the largest outlet shopping centers in the country is expected to grow. About 60 to 70 percent of the mall's patrons come from the Chicago area, and 20 to 25 percent from Milwaukee.

Five to 20 percent are Kenosha County residents and tourists.

According to Van Pell, Balcor's executive vice president, the company plans to develop other properties in Midwestern states as well, including Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

The company envisions economic growth in this region and is investigating additional investment opportunities along the lakefront.

The Balcor Co. is one of the nation's largest real estate investment firms with professional expertise in all phases of property development and management.

Founded in 1973, the company has grown to be recognized in other areas of investment as well, including short- and long-term mortgage loans, real estate limited partnerships and asset management for domestic, foreign and institutional investors.

Here Are Ins, Outs Of Renting A Car

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel

For most people, the only time they will ever rent a car is while on vacation. Naturally there are many questions. The following are some of the most common:

Q. Do I need a major credit card to rent a car?

A. Not always. Some require a credit card, but your travel agent should be able to find one which can offer some options. Some car companies will request credit information before you rent. From this they will determine the amount of cash deposit you will need to leave with them. Others may have a set deposit amount of one or two hundred dollars. This amount could be less if you prepay the rental cost.

Q. Do I need to buy the insurance offered by the car rental agency?

A. There are a couple of types of insurance offered. The first is called personal accident insurance. This is nothing more than over-priced accidental death insurance. It is not necessary if you have any type of life insurance. It also covers a small amount of medical costs, but only for injury while in the rental car. It is not liability insurance.

The other is collision damage waivers. This is also over-priced, and may not be needed. Check with your insurance agent. If your own car insurance extends your collision coverage and personal liability to a rental car, you do not need to purchase collision damage insurance. Be certain that your policy covers both liability and collision on a rental car before refusing the insurance. You could be liable for up to $2,000 in damage to the rental car. If you are covered, don't be pressured into buying double coverage.

Q. What does it cost to rent a car?

A. This varies greatly by location, day of week and length of time. The least expensive rentals are in Florida. A weekly rate of around $40 is not uncommon in that area. Cars in Jamaica, on the other hand, rent for about $220 a week. Weekend rates are lower than weekdays. Weekend rates are usually from noon on Thursday to noon on Monday.

Q. How is my rental bill calculated?

A. Cars are rented for a 24-hour period. If you pick up your car at 3 p.m. on Thursday and bring it back by 3 p.m. on Friday, you will be charged for one day. If you bring it back at 4 p.m. on Friday you will be charged for two days. You may also be charged for miles over a certain amount allowed. If you are going to do a lot of driving, look for a rate with unlimited miles.

In most cases, it is best to bring the car back with a full tank of gas. Otherwise you will be charged an inflated fuel charge to fill the tank.

Some final tips: Don't be talked into a larger car than you requested, unless you really want one. Don't pay for insurance you don't need. Always reserve a car ahead of time so you will know the price. Your travel agent can secure a guaranteed rate for you. If you have children, inquire about infant seat laws. Seats can be rented through the car rental agency.

Grad Townsend Enjoying Biking Solo Across Country

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

What started as a dream in 1976 is today a summer vacation for Tim Townsend.

"In 1976, the Bicentennial year, a group of cyclists rode across the nation visiting historical sights. Ever since, I wanted to do that but every summer something - lack of funds, school, a job - got in the way," Townsend said.

So this summer, a combination of circumstances is allowing Townsend to pedal his way across the United States from San Francisco to Portland Me. He was about 3,400 miles into his trip when the 1978 Grayslake Community High School graduate stopped off to visit friends in Waukegan last week.

Townsend is combining athletic ability - he was a three-sport letterwinner for the Rams (hockey, baseball and cross-country) as well as a tourists' curiosity in the trip.

"I try and see as many scenic places as I can," Townsend said.

Townsend is traveling alone on his Trek bicycle, a 12-speed. It is equipped with a solar-powered computer and carries about 85 pounds of equipment. Townsend is biking the side roads of America on the trip.

"It's a good way to see the country," he said.

And it's also a good way to find unusual circumstances. So far, Townsend has had to confront knat flies, hailstorms at 7,000 feet above sea level and pitch-black tunnels along a bike trail.

Being a lone rider is not necessarily a handicap, he said.

"It's not so bad but the only disadvantage is you have to carry everything yourself. There's not as many decisions to make," the cyclist said.

His daily itinerary starts with getting on the road about 9 a.m. After 90 miles of riding, it's time to start looking for a place to sleep for the night.

"People have let me stay in their homes or pitch my tent in their yards. I usually try to locate a campground before dark. But one day it was 11 p.m. in Montana and there was still some brightness in the sky," he said.

Townsend started his cross-country hike at the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco June 7. He traveled north through California and Oregon. Later, he saw the Redwoods in California, the Continental Divide and Crater Lake. His trip included a 100 mile plus stretch in desolate Idaho in which he did saw mountains but no town.

For the record, Townsend's top speed was 49.8 mph and he has clocked 250 hours of riding time. His average speed was 13.1 mph.

When all his biking is finished, Townsend, 26, will pursue a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Throwing To First

Grayslake Mohawks shortstop Steve Taylor aims throw to first base during tournament game at Vernon Hills. Mohawks are competing in district play at Rockford this week.

NIU Softball Coaches Welcome Antioch's Sexton

Finding good fielders was a priority for Northern Illinois University softball coach Dee Abramson this spring and Antioch's Julie Sexton fit the bill.

Sexton and Kim Crotinger of Monticello have both signed letters of intent to play for the Huskies.

Sexton was a multi-sport athlete while attending Antioch. The 5-8, 139 pounder participated in volleyball, softball, basketball and tennis, earning letters in each sport. Sexton was named all-North Suburban Conference once in basketball and tennis and twice in softball. She was twice a all-county performer for softball.

Sexton led the Sequoits in almost every category statistically as ACHS finished 13-9 overall and 12-6 in the NSC. She hit .480 to lead the team, as well as home runs (nine) runs batted in (26) and stolen bases (30). Sexton had a .958 fielding average, second on the team and picked off 19 baserunners as a catcher.

"Julie is a very good athlete. She possesses a strong arm and willingness to work hard. Julie should add to our offensive power.

Defensively, she will look at her for the outfield, catcher, or wherever she fits best," NIU assistant coach Donna Martin said.

Sexton is also an honor graduate and member of the National Honor Society. She was one of three all-conference players nominated by the NSC for all-state honors.

Mundelein Legion Falls Twice In Dist. 10 Tourney

Mundelein ended what manager Keith Mione described as a "frustrating" season as the Legion squad was eliminated from Dist. 10 tournament play in Waukegan.

Mundelein lost to Lake Forest 9-6 and then was eliminated by Vernon 10-6.

"We never got the big hit when we needed it," Mione said.

Against Lake Forest, Rob Porcelius' three-run homer brought the Mundelein team to within striking distance at 6-4. But Lake Forest answered with three more runs to ice the victory.

Against Vernon, they key inning was the fifth when Vernon scored six of its 10 runs.

The losses gave Mundelein a final record of 6-12.

"I think they learned something from the season. They learned that you can't not score with the bases loaded and then take it out on the field with you," Mione said.

Offensively, three players batted better than .300. John Kazenas hit .408, Steve Hall .390 and Porcelius .378. Porcelius, who also notched one of team's six wins on the mound, played the tournament games despite a fractured thumb.

Chris Diener led the team's pitching efforts by picking up half of the team's six wins. Jeff Bergmeier had two victories.

There are some things to look forward to for the young squad.

"We have our whole infield returning for next year," Mione said.

That and one more year's experience could help Mundelein be a force in District 10 play.

Mundelein earlier had ended its regular season with a 5-4 loss to Wauconda.

Alibi Inn Wins Title

Alibi's Inn of Waukegan came away with the big trophy in the Gurnee Park Dist.'s women's softball tournament.

Alibi's beat South Park 9-8 in the second of two games needed to decide the winner. South Park had defeated Alibi's 5-2 in the first game.

Alibi's drew a first-round bye and then beat Mickey Finns and Pat's Place to advance to the title games.

Gurnee, North Chicago Clash In Key Shoreline Contest

The battle for first place may be over, but the battle for second is very much alive in the Shoreline League.

The Gurnee Indians and Highland Park are squaring off this week for the right to finish second behind Zion Dill Brothers, which won the league title for the second year in a row.

But for Gurnee, the Indians must also get past North Chicago in a July 23 battle. They cannot take the last-place Blue Jays lightly, for the expansion team is coming fresh off a sweep of Lake Forest. The Gurnee-North Chicago clash is at North Chicago High School and will begin at 6 p.m.

"Our defense has been pretty good lately. We have to get good pitching and keep hitting at our present pace," Gurnee manager Bill Stranowicz said.

Gurnee came into this week's action with an 11-8-1 record. A tie game with Highland Park had to be completed before a regularly scheduled game Tuesday.

"We want them to earn it," North Chicago manager Darryl Bellows said.

Gurnee broke a two-game slump in which its bats were shutout with a 15-0 romp over first-place Zion. In the first game, Zion won 5-0. Earlier in the week, Lake Forest had handed Gurnee a 1-0 loss.

In the win over Zion, starting pitcher Craig Prather went the distance to pick up the win. Prather, who was outdueled by Lake Forest's Mark Ruckebell earlier, allowed just four Zion hits.

Prather also contributed to the offense with two home runs. Stranowicz belted two round trippers as well while Willie Randall had a homer.

Craig Wallace was four-for-five in the win, five-for-seven on the day.

While Gurnee was earning a split at Zion Sunday, North Chicago was flexing its offensive might, scoring 22 runs in two games against Lake Forest on a hot day.

"Today we put it all together," Bellows said afterwards.

North Chicago had a seemingly comfortable 8-0 lead in the first game. But the heat and a Lake Forest rally almost cost the Blue Jays the win before the hosts hung on 9-8. Dave Kiel was the winner and Mark Satufel picked up a save.

Offensively, Mark Slobonik was two-for-three with two runs-batted-in, Pat Kelly was two-for-four with a two-run homer, Rob Hiner had a two-run triple in the first, Stauffel was two-for-four with an rbi and Tony Pann was one-for-three with an rbi.

There was little doubt in the second game, as North Chicago burst out to a 7-0 lead.

Starter Pete Balke kept Lake Forest in check from then on.

"Pete really shut them down," Bellows said.

Slobonik picked up where he left off in game one, going two-for-three with six rbis. Slobonik's output included a two-run homer and a bases loaded double.

Pann was one-for-one with one rbi, Tim Chess one-for-three with a double and a rbi, Kelly two-for-two and scored four runs.

State Games Growing

State games, amateur sports competitions patterned after the Olympics, are sweeping the nation, according to a national survey conducted by Kemper Sports Management.

"Our survey shows that the growth of State Games nationwide has been made possible by corporate sponsorship," Steven Lesnik, Kemper Sports Management President, said.

"The Prairie State Games is recognized as one of the country's most prominent State Games," Lesnik said.

What Is Source Of Streicher's Great Clout?

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor
BOB STREICHER,
DIRECTOR of the Lake County Building and Zoning Dept. is one of the greatest enigmas in the county.

At a time when most villages in Lake County are working hard to enforce codes, the county department of building and zoning remains almost blissfully nonchalant about violations in the unincorporated areas.

Every mayor and village board realizes that effective code enforcement is a key to economic development.
County officials have long criticized municipalities for their alleged poor planning and shoddy enforcement.
Always, the county seems to think it has a better idea and should dictate to municipalities what to do about growth and development.

But the most consistent complaint from citizens, municipal officials and township officials is that when they report a code violation in unincorporated Lake County, they get no action. Bob Streicher is charged with enforcing those codes.

It puzzled me how a man who generates such universal dissatisfaction manages to have such a hold on his job. Everyone complains about him, but precious few suggest that he ought to be replaced. So I decided to ask around to see how he does it.

Almost everyone I talked to said, "Bob Streicher has a lot of clout." Okay, fair enough. Since I talked to people on both sides of the aisle, though, another question popped into my head. "Who does Streicher have clout with?"

No one seems able to answer that question. So it seems that as long as the present members of the county board retain their seats, Bob Streicher will retain his clout. The wellspring of this alleged clout appears destined to remain shrouded in mystery.

Is it any wonder that local municipalities are not impressed when county officials offer them advice on how to clean up their act?

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) held a wonderful fund-raiser in

Round Lake Beach. Mayors and politicians from throughout the county turned out to show their support for the Senator/Mayor.

Waukegan Mayor Bob Sabonjian said he seldom travels so far west in the county because every time he does, people think he is going to try to annex them to Waukegan. He also said that when Geo-Karis was a girl, she was so ugly that her parents tied a pork chop around her neck to get the dogs to play with her.

Geo-Karis retorted that Sabonjian was a very lonely child. "Even the pork chops didn't help him," she said.

Geo-Karis continues to have the uncanny knack of drawing a crowd whether she is in the west or east end of the county.

THE TIME IS coming
when residents of Lake County may pay as dearly for water and sewer as they do for schools.

Well, perhaps not that dearly, but it will be a lot more than is now being paid.
Annual sewer bills of $350 to $400 will soon be common,

with similar or higher bills for water service.

Who will pay; who will benefit; and who will control these public utilities are questions that will be the focus of much debate over the next few years.

The debate will undoubtedly be hottest west of Rte. 45. These communities

Such development brings in more tax dollars than it takes back in services, thus reducing the load that the individual homeowner must bear. It also provides the benefit of creating more jobs, thus reducing the amount of assistance that must be supported by public taxes.

Code Official May Have To Hunt Violator

Note: This is the 13th in a series of articles on building and zoning violations.

by LARRY WITTNEBERT

Norm Yost, stepping down
from his position as Fox Lake Code Enforcement officer, said that tracking down errant property owners causing eyesores can often prove difficult.

Mailboxes seldom show the owner's name and the property may have an absentee owner, he said.

Thus, the official may have to resort to consulting the taxbooks in order to lasso the identity of the actual owner. And the problem is compounded when the property is held in trust and only a bank's name may spring up at the end of the tunnel.

Still another problem confronted Yost this year, an elusive absentee landlord.

Yost said that the landlord, George Novack, of Chicago, owns three rental homes in the Woodland and Hillcrest area.

He said that building materials, junk cars and auto parts defaced the property and he worked on the case since Dec. of 1986.

In Jan. of 1987, he sent Novack a letter directing him to appear in court

because of the debris. The first court date was then set in February and Novack just appeared in July.

On July 15, Circuit Court
No. 3 in Fox Lake ordered him to pay a $300 fine if the property is not cleaned up in 30 days.

But Yost said that taking such cases all the way to court is both time-consuming and expensive.

First the officer must divert attention from his enforcement duties to appear in court and second the village incurs legal expenses in prosecuting the case.

The officer must take photographs, as well, to document the case as evidence for court submission.

Asked if a cooperative public effort would ease the nuisance problem, he said that Fox Lake does a cleanup annually in the spring.

At other times, people can arrange with HOD for a special pick-up of their discarded items for a fee.

They have to pay a fee, too, if they take their discarded items to a landfill themselves.

But some try to take shortcuts by dumping illegally, causing eyesores in the area, he said.

Still, Yost said that the overall trend is for property owners to take an interest in keeping up the appearance of their land.

Adult day care is an organized program of

Gold Pyramid Tour Set To Benefit St. Therese

The Gold Pyramid House in Wadsworth will host benefit tours for the Saint Therese Janssen Foundation on Sunday, Sept. 27.

"During the 1987 tour season for the Gold Pyramid House, new exhibits were added to the excitement of this extraordinary luxury home," said Helene Denney, director of development for Saint Therese Medical Center. Highlighting these additions is an authentic reproduction of the sarcophagus and coffin of King Tutankhamen, an elaborate and ornate tribute the Egyptians wrought for their royalty.

The benefit tours will allow people to see what it is like to live in a genuine, gold-plated replica of one of the original seven wonders of the world.

"Tour participants will be able to meet Jim Onan, the owner and builder of the Gold Pyramid House," said Denney. "Onan has transferred his love for the mysteries of ancient Egypt into one of the most incredible and unusual attractions in the Chicagoland area."

Concessions and live entertainment will turn the event into an outing suitable for families and people of all ages. In addition, visitors can feed fish in the 20-foot moat on the premises.

The Gold Pyramid House is located on Dilley Rd., two and one half miles north of Six Flags Great America theme park in Gurnee. This location is approximately 10 miles south of the Wisconsin border and about five miles west of Lake Michigan. From Chicago, take I-94 north to Rte. 132 exit eastbound and turn left on Dilley Rd.

The Saint Therese Janssen Foundation Benefit Tours will begin at 9 a.m. with the last tour leaving at 6 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Saint Therese Janssen Foundation, Development Dept., 2615 Washington St., Waukegan, Ill. 60085. Admission is $7 for adults and $4 for children.

For more information, call the St. Therese Medical Center Development Dept., (312) 360-2171.

Woodstock Theatre Hosts Premiere Mozart Festival

The Woodstock Opera House will present its inaugural season of the Woodstock Mozart Festival in August.

The opening night gala, at 8 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 7, will feature young Viennese violinist Elisabeth Weiss-Wechsler with the Woodstock Festival Orchestra under the direction of Charles Zachary Bornstein. The program includes Mozart Symphony No. 27 KV 199 in G; Violin Concerto No. 3 KV 216 in G; and Symphony No. 25 KV 183 in G minor. This program will be repeated at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 8.

Program Two, at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 14 and 15, will feature director Bornstein in a solo role and conducting from the keyboard. The program includes Mozart Overture to the Marriage of Figaro KV 492; Piano Concerto No. 24 KV 491 in C minor; and Symphony No. 33 KV 315 in B flat.

Bornstein hails fresh from a wildly successful season with the Rockford Symphony Orchestra. His background includes formal training at some of the world's most prestigious institutions: the Julliard School, Salzburg's Mozarteum and the Academy of Music in Vienna. He also studied privately with Leopold Stokowski while serving as assistant conductor of the American Symphony Orchestra.

Bornstein comes to Woodstock from Canada, where he has just completed the third annual London Mozart Festival to critical acclaim and sold-out houses.

Round Lake Teenager Dances At Old Country

James Rowe, of Round Lake, appears this season as a singer/dancer in the "Oktoberfest" show at Busch Gardens, The Old Country, in Williamsburg, Va.

Rowe auditioned for the role at The Palmer House Hotel in Chicago during the theme park's 19-city audition tour. This is his first season as a performer at The Old Country.

In the "Oktoberfest" show, Rowe joins a cast of eight singer/dancers and a 10-piece "oom-pah" band in rousing renditions of traditional German folk songs and dances. "Oktoberfest" is staged up to five times daily in the park's 2,000 seat "Das Festhaus," a large restaurant serving authentic German food.

In addition to "Oktoberfest," The Old Country offers seven main stage shows ranging from traditional folk shows and country music to dynamic contemporary productions with lavish costumes and sets. Busch Gardens is also home to numerous strolling actors who interact with guests on an improvisational basis.

Located three miles east of historic Williamsburg, Va., Busch Gardens, The Old Country is a 360-acre family entertainment theme park which re-creates the atmosphere of 17th-century Europe in hamlets representing England, France, Germany and Italy.

'Witches Of Eastwick' A Devil Of A Time

☒ YES
☐ NO

The confrontation of Satan by men (and or women) is a premise that has been employed by artists and writers ever since, well, ever since there have been artists and writers. Past works such as 'The Devil And Daniel Webster', 'The Damnation Of Faust', 'Don Juan In Hell', Dante's Inferno' as well as one or two good television episodes of the 'Twilight Zone' TV show have employed this device with success. The movie 'The Witches Of Eastwick' carries on this well founded tradition and employs several contemporary plot twists of its own just for fun.

The setting of 'The Witches Of Eastwick' is taken from the title. Eastwick is a fictitious contemporary east coast town (not unlike Salem Mass.?) where 'guess who' has decided to take up residence. Jack Nicholson plays the role (to the hilt) of the mysterious and very strange stranger who has just taken up residence in the town's long deserted and historic mansion. Seems the place was the sight of some unsavory witch hangings in days long gone. The townspeople are set to wondering just who this newcomer is and why it is that everyone seems to be having such a hard time recalling his name. Yes, he does seem to have a very 'magnetic' personality and plays one 'hell' of a game of tennis, as three of the townswomen soon discover, but what is he up to? Where can a plot like this go? With talents the like of Jack Nicholson, Susan Sarandon and Cher the journey is worth the wait. There is an old saw about 'giving the devil his due' and that is just what these three women eventually set out to do. If one can remember the opening act of Shakespeare's 'MacBeth' with three old hags working up their potion, then one should enjoy the strange new brew that these three modern witches concoct for poor old Jack. None of the nose twitching foolishness from 'Bewitched' for these three. The special effects in the last part of this film would make even a Linda Blair fan reach for the air-sickness bag.

Can I tell you more? No! I will only caution anyone who may walk into the last five minutes of this film with this: The journey is worth the wait, but only if you've taken the complete route.

I can recommend 'Witches' for the strong of heart as well as stomach. If you're one of these, you'll have a good time. 'Erp!' Rated R.

A Hot Time In 'Eastwick'

☒ YES
☐ NO

"Be careful what you ask for, you just might get it." So goes the old saying and that's exactly what happens to three beautiful women living unfulfilled lives in the mythical New England town of Eastwick.

The movie "The Witches Of Eastwick" is a very clever and farcical story that defies easy categorization. It's a comedy, a suspenseful supernatural thriller, and a satirical comment on the battle of the sexes all rolled into one.

The story details what happens after these three women get together one stormy night and discuss their ideas of an ideal fantasy man, one who can fulfill their innermost desires. ("A tall dark prince traveling under a curse", one of them suggests.)

The movie has already hinted, in an earlier comic scene involving a sudden thunderstorm at a school commencement, that together these women have some sort of latent supernatural ability. No sooner have they made this wish, then a mysterious stranger arrives - a man both revolting and irresistibly charming at the same time.

That's when the fun really takes off. This is because the stranger is played, of course, by Jack Nicholson. He is perfect for this role (and vice-versa). He plays it with the snake-like charm that is his trademark and clearly has a good time doing it.

Another standout performance in the movie belongs to Cher, who, with such films as 'Silkwood', 'Mask' and now this one, has surprisingly proven herself as a very talented dramatic actress.

Rounding out the fine lead cast are Susan Sarandon and Michelle Pfeiffer as the other two witches. Pfeiffer has, in this reviewer's opinion, a track record of classy performances in good but somewhat overlooked films such as 'Into The Night', 'Lady Hawk', and 'Scarface'.

Two of the most interesting scenes in the movie are when Cher blasts Nicholson in a funny, biting monologue after which he manages to seduce her anyway, and a satirical, climactic scene in which he rages about the way women treat men.

For an outrageous but entertaining time, 'The Witches Of Eastwick', now playing at area theatres, is recommended. This movie proves the adage, 'life is no bowl of cherries'.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

The red-hot British quartet, Curiosity Killed The Cat, has just had their first album debut in the number one spot on the U.K. charts. Now comes the U.S. invasion. The four young Englishmen who comprise the band (Ben Volpeltiere-Pierrot on lead vocals, Miguel ("Mig") Drummond on drums, bassist Mick Thorp and guitarist Julian Brookhouse) began to develop their richly textured music and distinctive attitude three years ago.

Their singles, which made their way up the U.K. charts in 1987, include "Down To Earth," which traveled up to the number three spot, and current Top 20 hit "Ordinary Day." This track record has set the pace for the debut of their first album, "Keep Your Distance," which entered at the top of the British album charts immediately on release and is due to be released in the U.S. later this summer.

In case you're curious, the band's name comes from a password in an adventure game.

Say, Mr. Mister, can you spare an album? The answer is yes, and the release is titled "Go On." Due out in August, the album is produced by the band themselves as well as Kevin Killen, who has engineered music for U2, Peter Gabriel and Bryan Ferry of Roxy Music fame.

In England, the word, but not the music, spread like wildfire about Blow Monkeys' latest single, "The Day After You" from the LP "She was Only A Grocer's Daughter." The non-conformist Dr. Robert wrote the song (which features the Dr. duetting with Curtis Mayfield) specifically about the day after Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher is voted out of office. Radio in the U.K. deemed it inappropriate to play the tune until after the elections which, to Dr. Robert's dismay, Thatcher won going away.

retail sales promotion along the Sheridan Rd. business district in downtown Zion and will be themed along the lines of '50s and '60s nostalgia," explained Maggie Dukas, president of ZBA. "We're expecting this event to be among the most popular staged in the city of Zion this year.

Musical 'Our Town' To Premier

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre will present the world premiere of "Grover's Corners" opening July 29, and playing through Oct. 11. "Grover's Corners" is the perfect blend of classic American drama and American musical theatre.

Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-winning play "Our Town" is newly adapted for the musical stage by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, whose credits include "The Fantastiks" and "I Do, I Do." This new musical is a poignant, humorous, compassionate chronicle of life and love in a small American town between the great wars. "Grover's Corners" intertwines the lives of George Gibbs and Emily Webb, children of neighboring parents. Performances of "Grover's Corners" are on Wednesday through Sunday, with tickets ranging from $14 to $24 (including senior citizen, student and active military discounts).

Christina Pickles isn't exactly playing herself

By Lynn Hoogenboom

There's a theory that if a television series has a long run, it had better be cast to type, because the actors are going to end up playing themselves. After five seasons on the NBC series "St. Elsewhere," Christina Pickles, who plays Nurse Helen Rosenthal, finds this to be true.

Christina Pickles

"You go to work week after week after week, and the essential you is bound to creep through," she says. "So I guess the wise producer will try to find someone who is very similar."

Pickles isn't exactly like Nurse Rosenthal, of course. "I couldn't be a nurse, because I can't add two and two together and I can't remember formulas," she says. "I can't remember how to do blood pressure - the nurse has to show me every time. But I am a strong woman, or I couldn't survive in the business. That essential strength comes through."

Although Pickles makes her living through television, she rarely watches it herself. "It depresses me," she says. "I don't know why."

She thinks for a moment and decides that it may simply be the nature of the medium. People nod in and out."

MARQUEE

ROXANNE (PG - Columbia) Starring Steve Martin and Daryl Hannah. ★★

By J.T. YURKO

Romantic comedies are out of favor in Hollywood these days, but with "Roxanne," Steve Martin has written a pretty darn good one. He has, of course, had a little help.

The film is Martin's retelling of "Cyrano de Bergerac," Edmond Rostand's classic 1898 play about a military leader with an outrageously oversized nose.

Martin has the good looks and charm to be a leading man, but usually plays against type. In "The Lonely Guy," his closest encounter with a romantic lead, love was overruled by farce. And his characters in "The Jerk," "Pennies from Heaven" and "Little Shop of Horrors" were no lady-killers either.

Here, he plays his straightest romantic role yet. Wearing a perfectly fashioned makeup nose, Martin portrays C.D. Bales, a small-town fireman who falls for a beautiful astronomer named Roxanne, played warmly by Daryl Hannah. Working alongside him is fellow fireman Chris, played by Rick Rossovich. Chris is a hunk, but beneath his good looks he lacks talent as a lover. So he enlists the aid of Martin as the ghostwriter for his courtship.

Anyone familiar with "Cyrano" will recognize the story, and Martin has adeptly adapted the old to the new. Instead of a sword, Martin parries with a walking stick. The famous balcony scene is made hilarious by a noisy police scanner that rudely intrudes on the courtship. And while Cyrano would have found drinking wine through his nose utterly disgraceful, Martin won't let good taste stand in the way of a gag.

The film also stars Shelley Duvall as an amiable barkeep and Fred Willard as the town mayor. It's easy to spot who will pair off with whom at the film's end. Martin has altered the original "Cyrano" story and supplied a happy ending that no doubt will offend purists. But this show is Martin's, not Rostand's, and the comedian irreverently, uproariously makes the most of it.

ASK TONI
By Toni Reinhold

Has Beau Bridges ever starred in his own TV series? - S.C., Scranton, Pa.

Beau Bridges

In the spring of 1980, Bridges starred in "United States," a sitcom created by "M*A*S*H" creator Larry Gelbart. It aired for less than two months before being canceled. Bridges played Richard Chapin, and Helen Shaver played his wife, Libby. Bridges also portrayed Seaman Howard Spicer in "Ensign O'Toole," which aired from 1962 to 1964.

Is it true that Darren McGavin once played Mike Hammer? If so, did the series also feature the Pat Chambers character? - A.N., Burlington, N.C.

Before Stacy Keach starred in CBS's "The New Mike Hammer," Darren McGavin played the hard-nosed sleuth in "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer," a syndicated series that aired from 1957 to 1959. Capt. Pat Chambers was played by Bart Burns.

JAMIE For Connors, the heavy is usually the better part

By Paul Elle

TV audiences know Chuck Connors best as Lucas McCain, hero of the classic Western series "The Rifleman." But from his film debut in "The Big Country" (1958) to his current role in the Fox Network's "Werewolf," Connors has preferred to play the heavy.

Chuck Connors

"People say, 'Why do you play so many heavies? Why can't you play another cowboy?'" Connors says. "But for an actor, the heavies are usually the better parts."

In "Werewolf," Connors plays Skorzeny, the adversary of college student Eric Cord (John J. York). After Cord was bitten by his roommate, a werewolf, he murdered the roommate in self-defense and set out to kill the original beast (Connors) in order to remove the werewolf curse. In the manner of the '60s series "The Fugitive," Cord is both pursuer and pursued, at once chasing Connors and being chased by the police. "I play the original bloodline of the werewolf," Connors says. "I'm 1400 or 1500 years old. My blood isn't red, it's black. I'm evil incarnate."

At first, Connors had doubts about the chances for a weekly suspense series. But they were dispelled when he read the "Werewolf" script.

"When I looked at this part, I thought of something ('Big Country' director) William Wyler told me," he says. "He told me, 'If you ever look at a part that really lets you go out on the edge, take it. Even if no one's going to see it. Because those roles don't come along too often.'"

Ironically, the enduring popularity of "The Rifleman" - Connors still sends out 500 photos each week of himself as McCain - has allowed him to play more unsavory characters.

"That role protects me," he explains. "Everywhere I go, I'm recognized as the Rifleman. And they don't just say, 'I watched you.' They say, 'I grew up with you.'"

Connors will revert to his heroic persona in two upcoming films. In "Grandpa Hawk," he plays a Texas lawman that he calls "Grandpa Rambo." And in "Terror Squad," he thwarts terrorists who sabotage an atomic reactor in the Midwest. "I play a sheriff in the town," Connors says. "I play a good guy in this one."

One Sunday in our Intensive Care Unit
we handled 2 cardiac arrests,
1 stroke patient,
3 automobile accident victims
...and made sure that the first thing Dorothy Meineke saw when she opened her eyes was her husband.

In ICU, little things mean a lot.

The intensive care unit of Northern Illinois Medical Center is a focal point for the advanced technology and modern medicine that a critically ill or injured person needs. Our experienced physicians and highly trained staff work day and night treating and monitoring patients, watching for—and responding to—the subtle signs of change... the small suggestions of progress.

But many times a patient's "needs" don't register on a heart monitor. So in addition to the sophisticated skills and procedures used to care for our critical patients, we understand the importance of those little things that can help make a difference.

Like having a loved one at bedside. For more information about NIMC's Intensive Care Unit, write to us... or

Chairman's Politics Are At Home In Lake County

by JOHN STEINKE

Last May, Dist. 4 Rep. Jim Fields of Antioch was elected Lake County Board Chairman in a 25-hour election marathon. Fields is one of the luckiest politicians in the free world. He is a Lake County politician.

In the corn stalks of northern Illinois, we love public officials with Fields' let's-sit-on-our-haunches-and-do-nothing philosophy. That explains why Fields has never lost an election. He has been Antioch Twp. Supervisor since 1977. For the past seven years, he also has been a county board member from Dist. 4, which includes Antioch, Avon, Grant, and Lake Villa Twps. in western Lake County.

Steinke On Politics

Fields possesses all the qualities that we find desirable in a politician. First, he is a Republican. We all know that hell is populated by Democrats, and those who don't read the Bible. History has demonstrated that the GOP is the party of social respectability and public morality. We are all proud of Grantism, Teapot Dome, Watergate and the Iran-Contra affair. When we vote for Jim Fields, we are reenforcing the eternal principles enunciated by Pat Robertson and Oral Roberts.

Second, we like Jim Fields because he is one of us. He is a man of average intelligence, ordinary personality, modest comprehension and normal talents. Unlike most of us, Fields is also a charming fellow. He can butter people up quicker than a Babcox popcorn machine. No wonder Joe Sixpack and Josephine Boilermaker relate to Jim Fields. He resembles the friendly manager of a shoe store at your local shopping mall. He is our kind of guy.

Third, Jim Fields is a political servant who feeds off the public trough without disrupting our personal lives. When we wake up in the morning, we don't have to ask ourselves, "What did Jim Fields do to make our lives more difficult in his role as a governmental official?" Of course, the answer is, "Nothing."

He has never developed a major policy, introduced a significant bill, delivered an important speech, or played an important part in committee proceedings in his dual capacity as township supervisor and county board representative. He ain't done us wrong. Yet, Fields ain't done us right, either. But he has been efficient in collecting his two governmental checks. One out of three isn't bad for a baseball player. But it isn't too good for a politician. Nevertheless, thank you, Jim, for doing nothing as a public official. You could have made things worse.

Fourth, all of us love politicians with important titles. Jim Fields is now chairman of the Lake County Board. That must mean he is important people in Lake County politics. He has clout. That means raw political power. It doesn't matter that he was elected chairman on the 139th ballot. The 24-member county board had two choices: Jim Fields or the yellow pages.

Fields was plucked out of complete obscurity to be a useful pawn in a bigger game. The county board is evenly split between the Independent Republican-Democratic bloc, and the regular GOP group. Both factions perceive Fields as a tower of jelly, and expect the Antioch representative to capitulate to their demands. Fields wasn't elected county board chairman because his colleagues consider him a leader. He was chosen because both factions believe that Fields is a political weakling subject to their manipulative pressures.

Fifth, we will support Fields because we are the "Hazzard County" of northern Illinois. Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox runs Lake County politics. Babcox is also the de facto boss of Grant Twp., whose votes Fields needs to secure reelection in the March 15, 1988 primary. Thus, Fields subscribes to unswerving party orthodoxy. He is an anti-environmentalist, a pro-growth disciple, and a machine Republican.

Thank God that Lake County usually supports political mediocrity! Otherwise, Jim Fields wouldn't hold public office.
